DEFENSE RESTS CASE TODAY

Introduction of Testimony In Behalf of Carl Hollenbacher Came to a Close Wednesday Afternoon—Evidence from Murder Trial Admitted

State to Place 15 or More Witnesses on Stand In Effort to Prove Wife Murderer Sane—Crowds at Trial Overflow Into Court House Corridor

The defense rested its case in the trial of the issue of sanity of Carl Hollenbacher in court shortly after two o'clock Wednesday. The final moments of the defense of the case was occupied by Judge Armstrong, in reading testimony offered at the trial in November, 1919, when Hollenbacher was convicted of the murder of his divorced wife, Pearl Burgess.

This testimony was introduced by way of reading it to the jury.

Attorney John L. Cable announced that the state would place about 15 witnesses on the stand, beginning with the middle of the afternoon Wednesday.

People of all races and nationalities mingled in the big crowds which overflowed the court room, Wednesday afternoon. Doors were opened into the lobby and people congregated there to catch a word of the testimony.

Mothers held their small children up in their arms or fathers hoisted them on their shoulders, that they might get a view of Hollenbacher, the man who killed his wife. He sat in a dejected mood, much the same as formerly, with his eyes fixed on the floor.

Dr. Shelby Mumaugh, who with Drs. P. J. Tussing J. B. Vail and D. W. McGriff, made an examination of Hollenbacher as to his sanity a year ago last October, and again last Sunday, was on the witness stand for a period of two hours Tuesday afternoon. When court closed and the state had finished with Dr. Mumaugh, Judge Armstrong, counsel for Hollenbacher, announced he wished to make a lengthy re-examination of Dr. Mumaugh.

TESTIMONY UNSHAKEN

This was completed Wednesday morning. Dr. Mumaugh's testimony was unshaken under the heavy crossfire which Attorney John L. Cable subjected him to in an effort to show Hollenbacher is sane.

"In my judgment and basing my answer on the recent examination of Hollenbacher, his capability of expressing emotions, such as joy and sorrow, love and hate and reason and judgment, his low mental deficiency and his general characteristics, makes me say, beyond any doubt in my mind, Hollenbacher is insane," Dr. Mumaugh said

Dr. Mumaugh was, years ago, assistant physician at Longview insane asylum, one of the largest in Ohio.

He declared that Hollenbacher possessed the mentality of a child just a little above nine years old. "When the responsibilities of married life were thrust upon him and things went wrong, he was no more able to cope with them than would a little child of that age," Dr Mumaugh said

Questioned as to Hollenbacher's answers that he did not now know where his wife was and that his mind was almost a perfect blank concerning the shooting of her and himself, Dr. Mumaugh declared he was somewhat skeptical in October, 1919, of Hollenbacher's answers to those questions.

"But when examining him last Sunday, I am quite convinced that his mind is a perfect blank covering that period of time," Dr. Mumaugh declared.

Testimony of the physician was one of the big bombs which Judge Armstrong threw into the camp of the state, in their effort to prove Hollenbacher sane

PHYSICIAN IS RECALLED

The trial Wednesday morning consisted of the re-examination of Dr. Mumaugh and testimony of Dr. J. B. Vail, Dr. P. J Tussing and Dr. D. W. McGriff. All were a unit in declaring Hollenbacher not sane.

Their testimony followed much the line of that of Dr. Mumaugh. All made the examination in October, 1919, and were present last Sunday afternoon when the final test of three hours was made

The court room, as in the two former days of the trial, was filled to overflowing and it was necessary for Court Bailiff Poling to pass among the standing crowds and keep an aren-way open so that witnesses and those who had business with the court could pass.

Spectators clung to their seats, for fear of losing them, not even leaving the room for intermissions.

Dr. O. O. Fordyce, superintendent of Toledo state hospital, was called to testify, Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Fordyce made a hasty examination of Hollenbacher before taking the stand.

He declared that, using the tests submitted to the insane under his supervision, he would candidly say he believed Hollenbacher is sane.

REV. CHAPLAIN ON STAND

The Rev. O. E. Reed, chaplain of the state penitentiary, Columbus, was also introduced by the state out of order. Judge Armstrong granted this permission, so that they might return to their home. The chaplain declared that as he had observed Hollenbacher, he saw no reason for the slightest chance of insanity.

Dr Fordyce, however, stated he only gave 20 minutes to the examination and that the Rev. Mr. Reed saw Hollenbacher only once in a great while, not having an opportunity to observe him closely. The chaplain stated, however, he was so poor in his studies, that while in the fifth grade in school there, he should really have been placed in the fourth.

Judge Armstrong filed an exception and was granted the same on account both Dr. Fordyce and the Rev. Mr. Reed were employed by the state.

For the same reason he attacked much of the testimony of Miss Florence E. Fitzgerald, of Columbus, an expert with the bureau of juvenile research. She too had submitted Hollenbacher to, tests. She claimed her tests showed he had a mentality of a child of 11 years.

COUNSEL OBJECTS

Judge Armstrong objected to the witness being allowed to express her views as to whether Hollenbacher was sane or insane, claiming she is not an alienist and is not capable of judging. He also brought out the fact she is but 25 years of age and capable of mistakes. She was placed on the stand out of order, by permission of counsel, so that she might return to her home in Columbus.

Judge Armstrong is seeking to have Hollenbacher committed to the Lima State hospital for treatment. No matter what the jury in this trial may decide. Hollenbacher could be no more than returned to the penitentiary.

Hollenbacher's counsel is an interesting figure in the court room. Long past the age of 70 years, he is prosecuting the case for Hollenbacher without aid. His stenographer and law student sit behind him.

STANDARD OIL CO. MAY CUT WAGES

General Reduction Thruout U. S. is Planned, Report

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Reports circulated in this city that the Standard Oil Company was planning a 10 per cent wage reduction affecting its employes in all parts of the United States were given added currency today by news of cuts made by Standard Oil subsidiaries in widely separated fields—New Jersey and West Virginia.

Employes of the Bayonne and Bay Way (Elizabeth) plants of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey considered the proposed reduction at meetings last night, while reports came from Mannington, W. Va., that employes of the Eureka Pipe Line Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, has been notified of a similar reduction. In the West Virginia field, a number of employes of the South Penn Oil Company, also a Standard Oil subsidiary, have been laid off.

The proposed reduction in pay, according to employes, who have been notified of the plan, will take the form of suspension of a ten per cent wage bonus granted by the Standard Oil Company during the war to offset the pressure of high living costs. At the time the bonus was made effective, the company announced that it reserved the right to suspend it when living costs returned toward normal.

Efforts to reach Standard Oil officials early today were unavailing. It was reported, however, that the company would issue a statement on the wage question during the day.

U. S. WARNED OF WAR DANGER

ENTENTE-GERMAN CLASH FEARED

Berlin's Refusal to Pay Demanded Indemnity Expected

WOULD FORCE SEIZURES

Armed Conflicts Likely to Follow, Reports Say

PARIS — (By United Press) — Germany today was laughing in the faces of the allies laughing in derision for the demand of an indemnity of $55,000,000,000.

The allies were faced with the possibility of a flat refusal to pay the huge sum. In that event seizure of German ports and forcible collection of questions was contemplated. This it was admitted, might lead to armed clashes.

MAY REORGANIZE

Dispatches from Berlin, which were eagerly scanned at the foreign office here, said that derisive laughter swept the reichstag when Foreign Minister Von Simons addressed that body and made known the nature of the allies' demands. Von Simons made it pretty clear that Germany will reply that she cannot pay any such sum.

The next move on the part of Germany probably will be reorganization of the cabinet to demonstrate to the allies that all parties are united in their attitude against paying the big indemnity.

LOOK TO AMERICA

According to information in official circles here, the Germans expect the moral support of America in this stand and are much interested in the reported intention of Senator France to introduce a resolution limiting the indemnity to what they regard as a "reasonable figure."

The Germans also are taking comfort from the statements of economists in all the allied nations to the effect that she cannot afford to pay $55,000,000,000.

France, according to officials, would like to occupy German ports, place garrisons in important German cities and enforce payment. but it is hardly believed likely that England would support such a move. It was learned today that the economi conference of German and allied experts scheduled for February, in Brussels for discussion of reparations, had been postponed.

$5,000,000 ASKED

Ford Sued by Morris Gest Theatrical Producer

CHICAGO — (By United Press)— With one suit for $5,000,000 already filed here, attorneys for Morris Gest, theatrical producer, today proposed to file additional suits in Detroit and other cities against Henry Ford, charging libel.

The article which is slugged: "How the Jews Capitalized Protest Against Jews", attacks Gest, it is claimed.

After stating Gest came from Russia, the article went on:

"The story of Morris Gest is the last one in the world to use as a 'success story' of the type of 'the poor immigrant who became a great theatrical producer.' He is not a great producer, of course, altho he is a great panderer to the least creditable tastes of a public, whose taste he has been no mean factor in debasing."

The article termed "Mecca" and "Aphrodite," theatrical productions of Gest, as "the most salacious spectacles ever shown in America."

The article also declared the American stage to be controlled by former bootblacks, prize fighters, newsboys and ticket speculators.

According to David, Fitzsimmons confessed that he slashed his wife's throat with a pocket knife after she scolded him for arising late.

His sleepiness, he said, was caused by an overdose of tablets given him at the hospital of the Raritan arsenal where he worked. He thought "dopey," he said, and in a foggy way, thought the murd would appear to be suicide. He said he left the woman dead on the floor of their bedroom, kissed his two babies goodbye and went to work.

MILLER BILL MAY GO THRU TODAY

Expected to Pass House As Adopted in Senate

BACKED BY GOVERNOR DAVIS

Bonus Measure Wins Out in Upper Branch

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Final passage of the Miller bill creating machinery for enforcement of the Crabbe state prohibition act was expected today when the house meets this afternoon to take up this measure.

Dry leaders today pointed to the statement of Governor Davis yesterday in support of their contention for making this an emergency act. The governor in his statement relative to emergency measures declared that "the people have approved the Crabbe act, and it is clearly our sworn duty to bring about its enforcement with the least possible delay."

PROVISIONS OF BILL

The Miller bill will go before the house just as it passed the senate with amendments which provide that private homes shall not be searched until it has been established before a court that liquor "is being sold, manufactured or possessed unlawfully." This provision is inserted by the drys to strengthen the Crabbe act, which, while providing for search and seizure, requires proof of sale only, before a search warrant can be issued.

Dry leaders declare that bootleggers are using the homes as a base of operation and they want the right to search such places where they have knowledge that liquor is being manufactured there or is illegally possessed.

SOLDIERS' BONUS

The soldiers' bonus resolution which passed the senate yesterday without a dissenting vote, will be messaged to the house today and may be taken up for action in the house tomorrow.

The Taft cities relief bill, permitting cities to issue deficiency bonds for 1921, which passed the house yesterday, was to be messaged to the senate today for action. It was passed as an emergency measure by a vote of 97 to 16 Democratic members opposing it.

The first public hearing on the bill initiated by the Ohio Chiropractors to establish an examining board of their own separate from the state medical board was held last night before the house committee on public health. No action was taken on the measure.

U. S. COAL BARRED

France Effects Embargo by Cutting Price to $9

PARIS— (By Associated Press) —The French government has fixed a new maximum price of $9 per ton for all American coal, free on board at French Atlantic ports. This is the lowest level American coal has reached since it began declining last October, when the figure was $32 per ton

Representatives of the coal dealers of France, who are meeting in Paris in a national convention, declared today that the government's action was in effect an embargo on American coal, because no American company could afford to sell at the new price, which after the payment of freight would net not more than $4 a ton

The French dealers, it was stated, approved the fixing of a new price as a temporary measure

SCHOOLS HIT BY OHIO INSPECTOR

Declares Third of Fairfield Teachers Should be Ousted

WOULD WRECK BUILDINGS

Fourth of One Room Houses Unfit, His Report Says

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — A one-third of the rural school teachers of Fairfield-co are not good enough to be retained, and more than one-fourth of the one room school houses should be wrecked, or used to store farm machinery in, according to Professor F. E. Landsittel, high school inspector for the state department of public instruction who has just completed a survey of the county.

"Rural schools of the county are only about half as good as they should be, when one considers the wealth of the county," the report said. "High schools and village schools are good, but the rural schools are marked by a great deal of waste and inefficiency, because they are so scattered. Abandonment of the one room schools and the construction of centralized schools will solve the county's problems."

Twenty-two and one-half per cent of the rural school teachers have not completed standard four-year high school courses, while 8 1-2 per cent of the teachers in rural villages have not the minimum requirements fixed by law, according to Mr. Landsittel's report

He said he observed closely 44 teachers and classified them according to their excellence or lack of it, into five groups, A, B, C, D, and E. Those in the D and E groups were described as not "good enough to be retained." Five of the 44 were put in the A group; seven in the B group; 16 in the C group, nine in the D group and seven in the E group. Only three rural schools out of 44 were said to be modern. Some of the others were in such condition, the report said, that Mr. Landsittel was surprised that the parents of children attending them did not object to their surroundings.

FORD GAINS VOTES

Recount of Senatorial Ballot in Michigan Finished

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The recount ballots in the Michigan senatorial election of 1918, finished today by the senate elections committee, left Senator Newberry, Republican, with a plurality of 4,334 over Henry Ford.

Mr. Ford made a net gain of 3,233 votes in the recount, but Senator Newberry's original plurality was 7,567.

The senate committee's recount, sought by Mr. Ford, gave Senator Newberry 217,085 votes and Mr. Ford 212,751. It began January 4, and was a proceeding distinct from fraud charges and counter charges still pending before the committee and also from criminal proceedings against Senator Newberry which now are pending in the supreme court.

Most of Mr. Ford's net gain in the recount resulted from technical irregularities in the ballots, it was said, such as the failure of election clerks and judges to sign ballots, as required by the Michigan law The recount resulted however in unearthing many ballots for both candidates which had not been counted.

PERSHING URGES PREPAREDNESS

General Gives House Committee Disarmament Views

FAVORS EXPANSION OF NAVY

Defensive Program Should be Continued, He Declares

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press.)—A warning against pacifism and unpreparedness were given the house naval committee today by General Pershing who appeared to discuss world disarmament.

While expressing approval of the proposal for a world disarmament conference, the former commander of the American Expeditionary forces said the United States should go ahead with its present navy and army programs until a definite agreement had been reached by at least the five great world powers.

"We should steer clear of drifting into a pacifist attitude of mind simply because we are discussing the subject," General Pershing asserted. "None of us want war, but we do not want to be caught unprepared if war comes.

SAFE POLICY FOR U. S.

"Until some agreement is had I would say that the safe policy for the United States to pursue would be to continue our army and navy programs and not allow ourselves to be caught unprepared as we were at the beginning of the world war. It is unsafe and unwise for one nation to disarm at such a time as this unless the others do likewise. I think I am in a position to know better than any other man, what unpreparedness meant at the beginning of the war."

The nations of the world know, the general added, that America's economic position would enable it to outstrip the world in military preparation if it so desired and therefore, they would realize the sincerity of a move for disarmament if initiated by this country and would subscribe to it gladly.

NAVY BILL CUT

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press.) — Nearly half a billion dollars will be required to complete the great naval building program embarked upon in 1916, the house appropriations committee estimated today, in reporting the annual naval appropriation bill for the fiscal year, 1922. The committee said that while the total cost of completing the program was originally placed at $544,700,000 increased cost of materials and labor probably placed at $544,700,000 increased cost of materials and labor probably would increase the total cost to $972,931,000, of which $538,270,00 has been appropriated. The bill reported today which carries a total of $395,504,444.23 provides $90,000,000 for continuing construction next year.

"This amount," the accompanying report stated, will allow the work to be prosecuted during the coming fiscal year about as rapidly as it has been possible to proceed thus far in the current fiscal year."

156 SHIPS INCLUDED

The 1916 program authorized 156 ships. Many of these have been completed, but 17 battleships and battle cruisers and a number of auxiliaries still are under construction.

The bill as it reached the house today carried $37,775,129.77 less than the amount appropriated a year ago, and $284,011,287.24 less than the amount requested by the navy department.

Besides the cut in the enlisted personnel of the navy from 143,000 to 100,000 heretofore announced, the committee also cut the marine corps from 27,400 to 20,000 enlisted men. No reduction, however, will be made in the number of officers in either branch of service.

A force of 100,000 men, the committee said, would be sufficient to keep at least 384 vessels in operation or 32 more than were in the entire navy in 1916.

The total appropriation for aviation is $6,913,431, a reduction of $28,086,569 from estimates and $13,086,000 less than was appropriated for this year.

BLIND OX IS LED TO WATER DAILY DOWN ON ALABAMA FARM

GREENSBORO, Ala — A queer tale of extraordinary friendship existing between a gander and a blind ox on the farm of Braxton Holcroft, in the southern end of the country, was brought here today.

Each day, so the story goes, a stately gander, with his breast full of sympathy and his head full of responsibility, leads an aged and totally blind ox to a nearby pond for water. The gander, walking just in front, quacks now and then in order that the sightless ox may follow and when the pond is reached the gander stands guard while his protege drinks his fill. When the ox has finished drinking, the gander leads him back to the field.

GERMANY SEEN IN TRADE WAR

Berlin Plans Invasion of World Markets, Report

LOW PRICES, BATTLE CRY

Flow of Goods on Cheap Scale is Program

(BY W. H. ATKINS)

WASHINGTON—Look out for Germany in the trade war in 1921. The hand of the German trader is beginning to show renewed cunning in world marts. The bold plan of German trade kings is to dump goods at lower prices than domestic makers can sell them. Cheap labor makes it possible for Germany to do this, and her purpose to direct a price-cutting campaign of unprecedented scope in all parts of the world is plainly revealed by latest advices to Government officials from trade and fiscal agents abroad.

England is now feeling the force of this German effort to crowd British goods out of British markets. German commodities in many lines are being delivered in London and other English centres at prices considerably lower than the cost of British manufacture. Secretary of Commerce Alexander was informed by Consul Clairborne that rare laces of German origin are being offered for sale in Nottingham at prices lower than the cost of manufacture in that great centre of the British lace industry. German products over a wide range are being sold on British markets at equally low figures. As a result scarp competition is setting in between the British and German makers.

PRICES BELOW COST

The Germans in many instances are selling below cost to regain some of the trade prestige lost by the war. The drive by the Germans has become so daring that Colonel Clairborne reported that the British Government is giving serious consideration to a plan to bar certain German imports until exchange approaches normal.

Ability of the German manufacturers to dump goods elsewhere and undersell other competing nations is seen in the fact that German workmen are being paid at the rate of from 250 to 400 marks a week, ranging from $4 to $6 in American coin. Britain plans to protect certain "key" industries against the inflow of German cheap marked products. This is to protect the industries and prevent idleness among her workmen. Slowing down of British industry has resulted in part from the German importations, and caused many thousands to be thrown out of work.

The Treasury Department, watching the financial aspects of this commercial drive by Germany, places much importance upon the fact that German industries are gradually recuperating with better facilities for obtaining raw materials. An important factor, too, they say, in the German trade situation is that the unit of productive power among German workmen is higher than that of many leading countries at this time. German employers and workmen, they are advised, find they are no longer able to ask and obtain top prices. An entirely different trade standard in Germany, officials say, will result from the new methods for fixing the wages and profits and individual producers, and with increased ability to secure raw materials and semi-manufactures.

Officials reviewing the German trade invasion in other fields, particularly Britain, declare that while it is a serious question affecting foreign trade policy, it has had the immediate effect of forcing down the artificial commodity level in British home markets. American officials expect that the same German tactics will be in evidence in the United States soon after formal proclamation of peace and full restoration of trade relations. It will present almost immediately an issue of the highest importance for the American Congress to settle. The demand will be raised by industries encountering this severe form of German competition that Congress must act to protect them from the ruin. The effect of German "dumping" in the United States upon the labor market might be disastrous, especially in some of the industries in which Germany seeks to gain the pre-eminence she held prior to the war.

"Love" was in nineteen, "Girl" in fifteen, "Heart" in twelve and "Shadow," "Life" and "Lady" in ten. There were only eight "Mysteries."

FIRST INSTITUTE IN FIVE YEARS

Spencerville Event Dated For February 16-17

OIL SLUMP SLOWS UP WORK

Revival Meetins at Antioch by Rev. B. L. Richards

SPENCERVILLE — (Special) — The first farmers' institute in Spencerville in five years will be held at armory here, Feb 16-17. The state will furnish three noted speakers and the best of local talent in the community will make up the remainder of the program. In connection with the institute will be a corn show and many prizes are offered for the best displays of corn. The grand prize of ten dollars is offered for the best single ear of corn grown in the Spencerville community this past summer. John Book is president of the institute and C. C. Reed, secretary.

Friday evening at the armory the local high school basket ball teams will play the two high school teams from Gomer. Gomer has won fifteen of the seventeen games played this season, and as Spencerville has defeated at Marys, Rockford and Delphos, basketball fans are looking for a fast game.

Oil men and contractors in the oil field around Spencerville say that the two reductions in the price of oil the past week, from $4.73 a barrel to $4.23 a barrel will have a tendency to slow up work in the local field. More than 100 wells were drilled the past year in the Spencerville field.

A special series of revival meetings has opened at the Antioch church Rev. B. L. Richards, of Spencerville, is the evangelist. He just closed a meeting at the Bethlehem church, in which there were more than sixty conversionist.

The high school basketball team of Spencerville has entered the high school basketball tournament of the state to be held this year in the gymnasium of the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware. The local quintet will play either the 25 or 26 of February.

Mrs Carl Wetherill and Mrs. Paul Cochrun entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wetherill with a seven o'clock dinner followed by cards. The home was beautifully decorated; a hint of old Japan being the color and decorating scheme. Twenty-four invited guests were present.

Mrs. Mary A. Hankins, aged Spencerville resident, is very ill at her home on Pearl street. Little hope is entertained for her recovery.

LABOR STRIKES AGAINST LABOR

LONDON.—There have been new wrinkles in the way of strikes for so long that everybody has concluded that nothing new is possible.

And then it happens.

Labor is striking against labor, or preparing to do so, if labor does not concede labor's demands.

Clerical officials employed at the London headquarters of the various labor unions have themselves formed a union, and affiliated themselves with the National Union of Clerks.

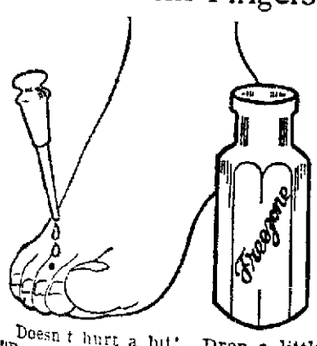

They demand that labor pay its labor wages on which they can live in decency and comfort and uphold the dignity of labor.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

SHE WASN'T SICK, BUT HER CHILDREN WERE

Six Months of Care and Worry Were Too Much for Her

GOT THIN, NERVOUS, TIRED

Her Brother-in-Law, a Doctor, Said She Was Anemic, and Adivsed Pepto-Mangan

Here is a story of a strong, vigorous mother who never knew what ill-health was. But three years ago her two little boys got into the hab it of being sick.

Six months of care and worry were too much for her and brought to light the fact, that, with all her apparent vigor, she really was anemic. She lost flesh, couldn't sleep well and got nervous

Then the doctor (her brother-in-law) prescribed Pepto-Mangan.

She said: "Fred explained a lot about the special sort of iron-content in Pepto-Mangan, and a lot of other things that I don't understand, but what I do understand is that a bottle of Pepto-Mangan is always going to be in my medicine closet as long as I live. Whatever it contains, I don't know or care, but I do know that it builds me up when I get run down, and that's enough for me."

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists. — Adv.

You May Have Gravel Like This Dayton Man. Try This Simple Remedy

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The scalding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of lithiated buchu, the gravel came, until at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like epsom salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of all abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs, which are necessary for prompt relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding stary or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel and other deposits of the bladder.

Be sure to get the Keller formula lithiated buchu at Hunter's Drug Stores and drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

ANNOUNCEMENT that the big automobile plants of Detroit and the steel mills in the Pittsburgh district are opening up, altho on a curtailed basis, makes the outlook for the future much brighter. With their operation business may be expected to start to boom and conditions for everyone will be much better. It means the beginning of the return to a normal state.

When the automobile and steel plants are running other industries are prosperous. They are, to a great extent, a barometer by which business may be judged. The motor car and truck concerns depend on scores of other lines of manufacture and the beginning of the manufacture of steel means there is a demand for that product which is created by activity in other branches of industry.

It is not to be supposed that we will return to a normal basis at one jump. That is impossible. The trend will be gradual, undoubtedly gaining in speed as time goes on. Better times are ahead. This is not a time to be pessimistic, but optimistic, a time to have confidence and courage.

ONE WOMAN'S SALARY

"HER salary is several times that of the President of the United States." That statement appeared a few days ago to indicate the importance of a certain popular movie actress.

This brings up the question of the value of service. Several times $75,000 a year, the salary of the president, is an important item. Is it possible for one person to really earn so much money? A salary of more than a million dollars a year has been reported in the movie profession.

Salaries are above the average in this business because of the big returns possible from the making of a single picture. Many films are made from the original and distributed to all parts of the country. Competition has had much to do with it, firms bidding for the services of actors and actresses who are popular.

A certain statesman refused a short time ago $150,000 for a single article, declaring that no article he could write or which any other person could write was worth that amount. We are inclined to believe he is correct, altho taking into consideration the salary of many in the motion picture business, it would not be an excessive price.

There certainly is reason to doubt whether one person can earn a million dollars a year or half that amount.

A GOOD PLAN

WOMEN in several of the larger cities are forming clubs for the purpose of learning to use firearms as a means of protection during the crime wave. They hope to be able to successfully handle revolvers in case they find themselves in a situation which warrants it.

The plan is good. Women should know how to shoot. No one wants to use a gun less driven to it, but thugs are forcing their use more freely now than ever before. Highwaymen and housebreakers often take advantage of women's so-called helplessness which in most cases makes robberies easy. The feminine sex has been placed on an equality with men in the eyes of the law. Why should they not be equal in the matter of marksmanship?

WHY IMITATE THE RAVEN?

MAN, in the image of God, endowed with free will and understanding and the mental capacity for working out his own destiny, is the highest type of life on earth.

One often wonders why it is that, lacking the form and feathers, so many are counterparts of the raven, the croaker of the bird family. The raven can only croak; it hasn't the ability or the capacity or the instinct of bird life to do aught else. It croaks its way happily thru life, but its raucous cry is a source of depression and discord to others more highly endowed.

Consequently, the man or the woman who adopts the outstanding attribute of the raven is not only to be pitied, but is likewise deserving of censure for the unhappiness and depression they bring to others who have the ability to see the doughnut and forget the hole that is in it.

All this leads up to the thought desired to be expressed. The world just now is passing thru after-war depression. Altho the United States of America is meeting the problems more bravely, more securely and eminently more satisfactory than any other of the nations of the earth, there is a certain percentage of folks who cannot—or will not—see any hope for stability in the future. They listen to the croak of the raven, influenced by the mournful cry of the dove and at the first evidence of departure from fixed standards are as quick to resign themselves to their fate as is a trapped porcupine, the arrant coward of the animal kingdom, helpless and heedless.

Despite the fact that on every hand there is more than sufficient evidence to indicate the rapid return of normal conditions and the stabilizing of affairs generally, the croaker refuses to recognize it and goes about sowing the seeds of discontent by his silly chatter. He has forgotten that the life blood flows quickest in the veins of those who keep their head erect and face toward the sun; that it is always the darkest just before the dawn and that every cloud has a silver lining. Hopeful, helpful optimism dispels gloom and despair. A smile and the spirit of determination are worth more than their weight in gold. It's time to swat the croaker.

TELL THE POLICE

PETTY crime appears to be increasing in Lima. Depradations are becoming more numerous. Stores and homes are being broken into and property is being carried away by thieves. Added to this annoyance is the fact that women are being molested on the streets and peepers are reported in residence districts.

These matters, to be broken up, must be reported promptly to the police. In numerous instances recently those who have suffered have failed to notify headquarters, thus failing to perform a duty.

The police department is maintained by the people for their protection. When reports of robberies or other crime are received those charged with performing the task of maintaining safety should lose no time in investigating. It is easier to catch a housebreaker while he is in the house than to look for him the next day. By cooperation between the public and the police much of the crime in the city may be prevented.

A MODERN NOVELETTE.
(By Steve Post.)

He and her sat opposite each other, a narrow cafe table between them. The place was crowded.

Hollingsworth admired her immensely and his eyes showed it.

The waitress bent over them in turn. Ethel ordered a terrapin, a mixed salad and a pot of black tea.

Hollingsworth ordered a filet de sole, some shoestring potatoes, a piece of pastry and a cup of black coffee.

All eyes in that part of the restaurant were upon them. Ethel was beautiful. Hollingsworth was greatly envied.

Yet, a strange silence fell over them. Conversation was apparently not for them.

"A lover's quarrel," thought a bald-headed gentleman at the next table, "but she will melt him finally. Who could resist a face like hers? No, they're married. That's the trouble."

Still, they did not speak. Occasionally the girl sighed.

Suddenly Hollingsworth rose from the table, having finished his meal, took his overcoat and hat and without a word to his fair companion he stalked out of the place without even paying her check.

"The brute," mumbled the bald-headed man. "It must be more serious than I thought."

Placidly the girl finished her meal and then ordered a chocolate eclair, which she consumed leisurely. The absence of her stalwart companion did not seem to weigh heavily upon her and—there was a reason.

They were total strangers and had never seen each other before.

SIX WEEKS MORE OF WINTER WEATHER—FOR THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

IS TUBERCULOSIS CONTAGIOUS?

Practically every adult has tuberculosis.

Only three per cent of us become aware of the fact, for only in three per cent of us does the disease light into activity. Latent or smouldering or inactive tuberculosis produces no symptoms and does not affect the health. When the disease produces symptoms and impairs the health we say it is active tuberculosis.

Practically all of us become infected with tuberculosis in infancy or early childhood. Whether this infection occurs thru the agency of milk from tuberculous cows—most of us have drunk many gallons of milk from cows that have tuberculosis—or whether the infection is acquired in another way, we do not as yet know. But we do know that the proof of latent or inactive tuberculosis is found in nearly every autopsy or post-mortem dissection made upon adults in this country, no matter what has caused death.

There is every reason to believe that a common mode of infection with tuberculosis is by prolonged intimate personal association with any one who has the disease in an active state. Thus, if either parent, or a nurse or a relative, or a guest, or a boarder lives in the house where a child or infant lives, that child or infant is almost certain to be infected with tuberculosis, altho the child may not then or ever afterwards develop activity or suffer impairment of health from the infection. There is nothing in the notion that tuberculosis is inherited. It is acquired by infection.

Is there danger of infection involved in a casual meeting with or a visit to one who has active tuberculosis of the lungs? No danger whatever, provided the patient is intelligent and does not spit in your face—and a lot of people who consider themselves refined, polite, intelligent folk do indiscriminately spit in everybody's and anybody's face. Any one who coughs or sneezes without carefully covering nose and mouth with handkerchief or hand spits in the face of any associate who happens to be within radius of ten feet, and ought to be there and then punished for the offence. In visiting or meeting an individual with active lung tuberculosis, or with any other respiratory infection (which includes alleged "colds" and diphtheria and ordinary sore throats), you are comparatively safe if you keep outside of his five-foot barrage, for in ordinary conversation one sprays the atmosphere round about with fine invisible droplets of saliva or secretion which unquestionably do convey the germs of disease to a distance of not more than five feet from nose or mouth.

Articles of clothing, materials, books or other objects touched or used by persons who have active tuberculosis do not convey the disease, and if not apparently or visibly soiled or befouled such articles may be used with impunity by other persons. Toilet and other articles which are likely to be contaminated repeatedly with saliva or sputum may, for a short time, harbor the living bacilli of tuberculosis, and should not be used by any other person.

One with active tuberculosis should not cook or handle food or other eatables for other persons.

WHAT the STARS PREDICT

The morning hours of this day are very lucky.

The stars are favorable to those seeking political favors or wishing to make new friends.

It is indicated that the first year of the new administration's rule will be strongly democratic in its dealings with the public.

There will be great increase in social activity in Washington.

Persons whose birthday this is, will have a lucky year, especially if they are employees.

Children born today will have happy lives, marked by great prosperity, if they overcome a tendency toward extravagance.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculair to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles. Adv.

YOUR NAME

CLAYTON

BY PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN

VARIATIONS—Newton, Leighton, Layton, Hilton.

RACIAL ORIGIN—Anglo-Saxon.

SOURCE—Localities.

This little group of family names is typical of the larger part of the entire classification of "ton" names. They are given here as variations of one another, not because they have come from the same source, but from the same kind of a source.

This source is Anglo-Saxon place names. This does not by any means establish the first bearers of the surnames as of Anglo-Saxon blood, however. They might have been and undoubtedly were, in many cases, Normans.

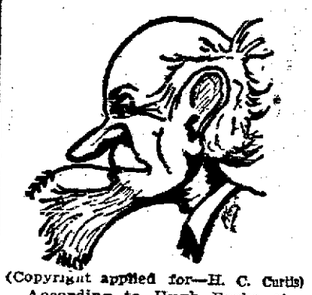

But it was back in the Anglo-Saxon period that the place names were formed around the old word "tun," which has given us our modern word "town." To the Anglo-Saxon this word meant primarily an inclosed place, which, of course, most of their towns were. Thus if the locality were noted for a clay soil, the "tun" became known as Clayton and grew into a town of that name. Newton would signify an inclosure recently built (recent in the view of those who named it). Leighton and the modern simplification, Layton, would be an inclosure on a "leigh" or "ley," that is, meadow land. And Hilton would designate such an inclosure on a hillside or hilltop.

Such names became family names as a rule when former residents settled in other communities.

GAME CLUBS ARE IN CONFLICT

St. Marys Against Fishing License Law

MERCER-CO IN FAVOR OF PLAN

Rural Mail Service Hindered Account Bad Roads

ST. MARYS — (Special)—Unanimous vote in favor of a resident Ohio fishing license for anglers 16 years of age and older, was registered by the Mercer-co fish and game association. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to William Wiley, Mercer-co representative in the general assembly and to A. C. Baxter, chief, fish and game division. Mercer-co action is in direct conflict with the Western Ohio fish and game association, having headquarters at St. Marys. The Western Ohio is on record against the proposed fishing license in its present (and maybe in any) form. That the people are already "taxed to death" and that the proposed restriction would work a hardship on many people, particularly the aged and the younger non-wage-earning class, are grounds for the Western Ohio's objection. The measure has already been adopted by the state senate.

The following officers were elected by the Auglaize-co Southern association: President, L. H. Steva, St Marys: vice president, Wilson Nieter, New Bremen; secretary, Oscar A. Bowsher, Wapak; treas., August Kruse, Wapak; members-at-large, Herbert Dicke, New Bremen; L. H. Steva, St. Marys. Organized two years ago, the Shorthorn association membership has grown from fourteen to forty-five.

Insistent skaters at Lake St. Marys are using boats to navigate open water between the shore line and the outlying ice sheet. The ice is around five inches in thickness and declared "safe" by the juvenile sports. A dog, falling into an open circle of water about a stump, was rescued by his owner who coaxed flat on the ice to its edge, insured the while by alpine rope tied about him and extending to the hands of his companions in pleasure.

Delmar Naumberg, Buckland, and Lettie Hole, St. Marys, were married at the Emil Tellejohann residence, St. Marys. They may locate in Logan township.

Amos Moser, son of Mrs. Arthur McDonald, St. Marys, and Thelma Kettle, both of Montezuma, were married at the Mercer-co courthouse. They will reside in Montezuma.

Mail service is temporarily suspended on St. Marys rural route five thru certain designated sections of Noble-tp. Condition of the roads, declared to be well-nigh impassable, is the cause given for shortening the route. Patrons, if they so indicate, will have their mail placed in the nearest accessible boxes.

Aged seventeen years, Nola L. Slife, daughter of Charles Slife, is dead at her parental home in Noble-tp. Tuberculosis was the cause. Surviving are the parents, two brothers, one sister.

SCHOOL FIGHT ON AT ROCKFORD

Restraining Order Against Bond Election Dissolved

CELINA — (Special — Common Pleas Judge H. A. Miller dissolved the temporary restraining order issued last week in connection with the case of George Frysinger and George O'Neil vs the Mercer-co election board and Rockford board of education, in which they sought to enjoin the holding of another election to submit a $100,000 bond issue for the erection of a new school building, in Rockford.

This marks another chapter in one of the bitterest and most hard fought issues in that village. A $50,000 bond issue carried about a year ago and when the bonds were offered for sale at 5½ per cent failed to sell. An issue of $100,000 was defeated about two weeks ago by five votes. Efforts at a compromise between the contending factions failed to accomplish anything and those favoring a new building petitioned for another election which was granted. The antis then sought to enjoin the election. A state inspector recently examined the building and ruled that it would cost $90,000 to repair and build four more rooms and a new eight room building could be erected for $100,000.

BOYS' HI-Y DISCUSSES ATHLETICS TONIGHT

The Central Boys' Hi-Y will continue their weekly meetings Wednesday evening when they will meet at 5:30 at the Y. M. C. A. The topic for discussion will be "Athletics." This theme has been discussed at several meetings and tonight all of Central's athletes will be at the meeting.

This subject is of interest to all the members as examples are taken directly from Central teams to prove points. The talks tonight will probably be about the success of Central's basketball squad this year and the coming important game with Fostoria.

LIMA LOCOMOTIVE MAN TAKES NEW INTEREST IN HIS MEALS; WIFE TELLS SPLENDID STORY

Can you imagine the feelings of a ship wrecked sailor who has been marooned for years, when he catches a glimpse of an approaching vessel?

Now double your imagination if you can and you may imagine the feelings of Charles Dobbins, 319 N. Jackson-st, Lima, an employe of the Lima Locomotive Works.

Mr. Dobbins had stomach trouble. He could not eat without discomfort. He was severely troubled with constipation. Pepgen relieved these ailments and now for the first time in months he feels fine.

His wife tells the following story: "My husband had stomach trouble. It was a big problem for me to cook food that did not hurt him. His appetite was very poor and even what little he ate gave him indigestion. He also complained of being constipated. "Since taking Pepgen his troubles have disappeared. He has a good appetite and his food agrees with him. He does not complain of being constipated. After the manner in which it relieved my husband I am glad to recommend it."

Pepgen is composed of different kinds of roots and barks well known for their tonic, appetizing and laxative properties. Dizzy spells, bloated stuffy feelings after eating, nervousness, sleeplessness, sick headaches, sallow complexion, under weight and other ailments are frequently due to feeble or slow digestion, or to habitual constipation. When such is the case Pepgen seldom fails to relieve.

Pepgen may be obtained at Charles M. Hunters drug stores or from any other leading drug store anywhere.

FOR BATHING DAYS DOWN IN FLORIDA

BY ELOISE

The few bathing suits which are being shown for wear on the southern beaches follow rather closely the models of last season, with one or two notable exceptions. One-piece jerseys without sleeves are the prevailing style. There are some two-piece suits for stouter women. These are made with the tights for a foundation and a loose chemise dress for the overpart, which may be worn with or without a belt. The one-piece suits have the trunks and overdress all of one. Some of the new suits feature the camisole top, but these are a bit daring for most of the public beaches.

Here is a novelty suit, made in the ordinary style but distinctive because of its trimming. It will be a popular model for wear on the southern beaches when the bathing season really opens. Black jersey is the material and it is trimmed with pipings and lacing of white. The lacing at either side has a slenderizing effect which will please many women.

The Shakespeare Study club will meet at the Public Library Thursday afternoon. An interesting program has been arranged. AN EXTRAORDINARY EVENT

Everyone will be there and all the people of the city will be talking about this film achievement. The Sigma theater to offer that magnificent film spectacle, "Dead Men Tell No Tales".

More than 300 persons take part in the big picture spectacle, "Dead Men Tell No Tales", which opens a four days engagement at the Sigma Theater this afternoon.

A film attraction that establishes a new standard in motion pictures, months spent in making the scenes.

A fire at sea, a stirring story of love and crime. It's a film of action and unusual events. The ship explosion cost several thousand dollars and is one of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed. Hundreds of players were cast into the sea in order to produce a thrill that will stand out for years as the master stroke of dramatic achievement. Many of the picture patrons are surfeited with the so-called society drama, but in this thrilling picture, everyone is assured a sensational round of scenes that will keep one keyed up to a high pitch of expectancy. If you like a little action, see "Dead Men Tell No Tales". This picture packed the new Palace theater in Cleveland the past week, the Cleveland nowspapers being very enthusiastic in their praise.

SUSIE SMART SAYS

Dear Miss Smart:

(1) How can a scab be removed from a small baby's head? I have been told it is caused from soap, I have not used it for a month. I grease it with vaseline then comb it off but in a day or so it comes back. (2) How can milk stain be removed from a plush coat?

MOTHER

(1) Consult a physician immediately as blood poisoning might result if care is not taken. (2) Try gasoline.

"PEGGY"

(1) Yes, my dear little girl, washing dishes is "splendid" for softening the hands, especially if you use this "nice" hard water which we have. (2) Drug stores and toilet counters carry a certain preparation which aids in beautifying and helping the growth of the eye lashes. (3) (a) Bitter, (b) bright in fame, (c) of enchanting beauty, (e, happiness, (f) a landholder. (4) Bobbed or in whatever style is most becoming to you. (5) You should be in bed by 8:30 or 9 o'clock.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a young man of 19. I went with a girl almost a year and then gave her up for someone else. Now I am just beginning to realize what a nice girl she was to me. What can I do to win her love? I know she loves me yet I have not the heart to ask her to come back.

"DOWN HEARTED"

All you need is courage. Invite her to go some place with you or ask if you may call upon her and if she still cares for you I am certain that she will not refuse you.

Dear Miss Smart:

"LONELY BUD"

How a "handsome, well built" young man can ever be lonely is a puzzle to me. Ask some of your boy friends or some of your neighbors to introduce you to some nice girl and then invite her to go some place with you.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

By J. S. FLETCHER

"Only if you are going to speak respectfully of him," said Breton sternly.

"I've no reason to do otherwise. Elphick is the man who ought to have married your mother. When things turned out as they did, Elphick took you and brought you up as he has done, so that you should never know of your father's disgrace.

"Elphick never knew until last night that Cardlestone is Chamberlayne. Even the biggest scoundrels have friends—Elphick's very fond of Cardlestone. He—"

Spargo turned sharply on Myerst. "You say Elphick didn't know until last night?" he exclaimed. "Why, then, this running away? What were they running from?"

"I have no more notion than you have, Spargo," replied Myerst. "I tell you one or the other of them knows something that I don't. Elphick, I gather, took fright from you, and went to Cardlestone—then they both vanished. It may be that Cardlestone did kill Maitland—I don't know. But I'll tell you what I know about it, tho, as I say, I don't know who killed Maitland. Now, first, you know all that about Maitland's having papers and valuables and gold on him? Very well—I've got all that. The whole lot is locked up—safely—and I'm willing to hand it over to you, Breton, when we go back to town, and the necessary proof is given—as it will be—that you're Maitland's son."

Myerst paused to see the effect of this announcement, and laughed when he saw the blank astonishment which stole over his hearers' faces.

"And still more," he continued. "I've got all the contents of that leather box which Maitland deposited with me—that's safely locked up, too, and at your disposal. I took possession of that the day after the murder. Then, for purposes of my own, I went to Scotland Yard, as Spargo there is aware. You see, I was playing a game—and it required some ingenuity."

"A game!" exclaimed Breton. "Good heavens—what game?"

"I never knew until I had possession of all these things that Marbury was Maitland of Market Milcaster," answered Myerst. "When I did know then I began to put things together and to pursue my own line, independent of everybody. I tell you I had all Maitland's papers and possessions, by that time—except one thing. That packet of Australian stamps. And—I found out that those stamps were in the hands of Cardlestone!"

Myerst paused, to take a pull at his glass, and to look at the two amazed listeners with a smile of conscious triumph.

"In the hands of Cardlestone," he repeated. "Now, what did I argue from that? Why, of course, that Maitland had been to Cardlestone's rooms that night. Wasn't he found lying dead at the foot of Cardlestone's stairs? Aye—but who found him? Not the porter—not the police or you, Master Spargo, with all your clevemess. The man who found Maitland lying dead there that night was—I!"

In the silence that followed, Spargo, who had been making notes of what Myerst said, suddenly dropped his pencil and thrusting his hands in his pockets sat bolt upright with a look which Breton, who was watching him seriously, could not make out. It was the look of a man whose ideas and conceptions are being rudely upset. And Myerst, too, saw it and he laughed, more sneeringly than ever.

"That's one for you, Spargo!" he said. "That surprises you—that makes you think. Now what do you think?—if one may ask."

"I think," said Spargo, "that you are either a consummate liar, or that this mystery is bigger than before."

"I can lie when it's necessary," retorted Myerst. "Just now it isn't necessary. I'm telling you the plain truth: there's no reason why I shouldn't. As I've said before, altho you two young bullies have tied me up in this fashion you can't do anything against me. I've a power of attorney from those two old men in there, and that's enough to satisfy anybody as to my possession of their cheques and securities. I've the whiphand of you, my sons, in all ways. And that's why I'm telling you the truth—to amuse myself during this period of waiting. The plain truth, my sons!"

"In pursuance of which," observed Breton, dryly, "I think you mentioned that you were the first person to find my father lying dead?"

"I was. That is—as far as I can gather. I'll tell you all about it. As I said, I live over Cardlestone. That night I came home very late—it was well past one o'clock. There was nobody about—as a matter of fact, no one has residential chambers in that building but Cardlestone and myself. I found the body of a man lying in the entry. I struck a match and immediately recognized my visitor of the afternoon—John Marbury. Now, altho I was so late in going home, I was as sober as a man can be, and I think pretty quickly at all times. I thought at double extra speed just then. And the first thing I did was to strip the body of every article it had on it—money, papers, everything. All these things are safely locked up—they've never been tracked. Next day, using my facilities as secretary to the Safe Deposit Company, I secured the things in that box.

"Then I found out who the dead man really was. And then I deliberately set to work to throw dust in the eyes of the police and of the newspapers, and particularly in the eyes of young Master Spargo there. I had an object."

"What?" asked Breton.

"What! Knowing all I did, I firmly believed that Marbury, or, rather, Maitland, had been murdered by either Cardlestone or Elphick. I put it to myself in this way, and my opinion was strengthened as you, Spargo inserted news in your paper—Maitland, finding himself in the vicinity of Cardlestone after leaving Aylmore's rooms that night, turned into our building, perhaps just to see where Cardlestone lived. He met Cardlestone accidentally, or he perhaps met Cardlestone and Elphick together—they recognized each other. Maitland probably threatened to expose Cardlestone, or, rather, Chamberlayne — nobody, of course could know what happened, but my theory was that Chamberlayne killed him. There, at any rate, was the fact that Maitland was found murdered at Chamberlayne's very threshold. And in the course of a few days I proved, to my own positive satisfaction, by getting access to Chamberlayne's rooms in his absence, that Maitland had been there, had been in those rooms. For I found there in Chamberlayne's desk the rare Australian stamps of which Criedir told at the inquest. That was proof positive."

Spargo looked at Breton. They knew what Myerst did not know—that the stamps of which he spoke were lying in Spargo's breast pocket, where they had lain since he had picked them up from the litter and confusion of Chamberlayne's floor.

"Why," asked Breton, after a pause, "why did you never accuse Cardlestone or Chamberlayne of the murder?"

"I did! I have accused him a score of times—and Elphick, too," replied Myerst with emphasis. "Not at first, mind you—I never let Chamberlayne know that I ever suspected him for some time. I had my own game to play. But at last—not so many days ago—I did. I accused them both. That's how I got the whiphand of them. They began to be afraid—by that time Elphick had got to know all about Cardlestone's past as Chamberlayne. And as I tell you, Elphick's fond of Cardlestone. It's queer, but he is. He wants to shield him."

What did they say when you accused them?" asked Breton. "Let's keep to that point—never mind their feelings for one another."

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

GWENDA'S REVERIE

A few hours later, Fedya called up to tell Gwenda that he would not be able to start the new painting that day, as he had just received word from a friend of his that Natalie was at her house, and busy raising particular cain. The only thing for him to do, therefore, was to hurry off and calm her down, if possible.

Gwenda hung up, feeling depressed beyond words. She explained to Fern what Fedya had told her, and then started in energetically to clean up the studio.

"Hard work of this sort is a sure cure for the blues," she sang out to Fern in the middle of dusting the furniture. "I have them badly today, and don't know the reason why. Don't want any lunch, and am going to spend the whole day moping right here. I'll get the dinner for us this evening. Let's call up John Neale and say we'd rather eat at home, shall we I just know that you feel as lazy as I do about dressing up this evening and going out to eat, Fern."

"Righty-o, anything at all will suit me," answered Fern cheerfully, dabbing frantically at her nose with her powder puff as she stood in the doorway. "I'm going on out now for a little while but I'll be back long before it's even time to think of getting the dinner, so don't you begin fussing all by yourself. Do you hear?"

Fern departed leaving a faintly intoxicating whirl of some oriental scent behind her, and Gwenda turned once more to the work in hand with gusto.

It was long after one o'clock when she finally sat down to a cup of tea with lemon and tried in a half-hearted manner to eat a salad she had prepared for her luuch. Her appetite was gone and as for the dread, it seemed to choke her.

She sat down for a long time with her chin in her hands, staring at nothing in particular, yet seeming to see marvels of all ages, judging from the expression on her face. Waves of color came and went in her cheeks, and now and then her throat would be dyed a vivid scarlet by the same fluctuations of emotional color. Her dark eyes widened into two unfathomable mysteries and she scarcely moved. Once or twice at the end of a half hour she looked at her finger nails in an inquisitive way, then at her slender fingers and hands, letting her eyes travel slowly up the full length of her arms as though she were questioning her limbs, her arms, her inmost self, about various riddles. It was as though she were struggling intensely with some deeprooted thing within her, for the right to think as she felt, the right to do as she wanted.

Gwenda was in a dangerous mood.

WIFE SAYS IT CURED HUSBAND OF CATARRH

Couldn't Sleep Good, Was Weak, Rundown, Had Catarrh Bad

TELLS HOW NEW REMEDY DID IT

"My husband suffered from catarrh and Hay Fever. He was weak and rundown, though he did not give up work. He would lay awake for hours nights. His appetite was poor too, so I asked a drug clerk about it one day and he recommended Earle's Hypo-Cod so highly I got a bottle. We saw it advertised too.

Today his appetite is much better. He grew stronger and better in every way, and best of all, I believe he'll never have any more catarrh. It is curing him fast. A neighbor of ours says she was cured completely with Hypo-Cod and she claimed to have had catarrh real bad," declares Mrs. Frank T. Judson of Worthington, Ohio, (Surburb of Columbus) in a glowing tribute to this remarkable new tonic.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is a nice tasting combination of Hypophosphites, Malt, Iron, Wild Cherry Bark and soluble extractives of Cod Liver Oil. It is a more modern, powerful preparation accomplishing its work much quicker. How nicely it tones up the system is proven easily by taking a bottle or two. The cost is trifling, and now is the season to take it. All druggists have the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod in the famous Orange Colored carton. —Adv.

FOSTORIA CANCELS GAME WITH CENTRAL BASKET TEAM

EPIDEMIC FORCES BIG BATTLE TO BE CALLED OFF AT ONCE

Most unexpectedly came the announcement at Central Hi shortly before noon Wednesday that the game with Fostoria there Friday night had to be called off on account of the prevalence of Central had chartered a special car on the Western Ohio and had made elaborate plans for accompanying their team there to decide the leaders in the Trolley League.

ALECK IS IN FINE SHAPE, FAN SAYS

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Arthur B. Riviere, 19 years old, a student at the University of Texas, has been signed by St. Louis Cardinals. In 1920 the collegian pitched in 26 semi-pro games, hurling four hitless contests, two in succession. He shut out his opponents in five battles. In four games they got one hit. Twice he allowed two safeties and on four occasions three hits. In 219 innings he fanned 332 men, twenty in one game. In three other games he struck out 17. Once he fanned 16, on four occasions 15.

CHICAGO — Grover Alexander should be in fine condition to pitch the opening game of the season on April 13, when the Cubs combat the Cardinals at the north side park. At least, Aleck is beginning his training in plenty of time. Regardless of the fact that he is the recognized star slabman of the National league, the big fellow was scheduled to start spring work yesterday.

William Wrigley, one of the principal stockholders of the Cubs arrived in town direct from southern California and just before starting from there he saw Aleck and made arrangements for him to begin his spring work on Feb. 1 at Catalina island.

GOLFS TO KEEP FIT

Aleck was eager to get at it, too. He had spent a couple of months down at San Diego playing golf, and now he will have about five weeks of work on Mr. Wrigley's island before the regular training season of the Cubs begins at Pasadena.

"Aleck was looking fine," Mr. Wrigley said. "He's going to be a better pitcher than ever. Let him have a month of roughing it over on the island and he'll be fit for anything. He doesn't intend to pitch any baseball right away. Perhaps after a couple of weeks he may do a little to limber up his arm. He thinks the Cubs can win the pennant this year and I know he'll do his share toward it."

HIPPO FOR TRAINING MATE

Big Jim Vaughn, who left Sunday for the coast, is expected to join Aleck on Catalina island, perhaps by the end of this week, and the husky pair of hurlers will do the mountain trails together.

Bill Killefer, the star catcher, is likely to go out next week and join them, and then the last week of February practically all the pitchers and catchers will be there for the mountain climbing and some light baseball drill for a week before the camp opens at Pasadena.

CINCINNATI — City solons in council session offer silent prayer for recovery of Councilman Clifford Martin, 64, who is seriously ill.

After a week of strenuous practices, the Lima Crescents are in good shape for their game tomorrow night with the strong Bellefontaine Independents on the St. Rose auditorium floor.

This is the initial bow of the Crescents to the local sporting public. However, they have played many games out-of-time and are a speedy aggregation.

IOWA BEATS CHICAGO IN FAST GAME

IOWA CITY, Ia. — Iowa whipped the Chicago five in a Big Ten game last night, 17 to 16. The game was the fastest played on the Iowa floor this year.

After Shimek had tossed a basket that put Iowa ahead, Chicago tried desperately for a ringer, but Iowa's defense was too strong. With forty seconds to play and Iowa holding the one point lead, the Hawkeyes took the ball down the floor and retained it until the gun sounded.

Lohman and Shimek each threw three baskets, while Capt. Kaufmann starred with his guarding, holding Vollmer to one basket and paying the Maroon star off his feet.

Birkhoff's dribbling was a feature but Aubrey Devine played him to a standstill, holding him to one basket.

SOUTHWORTH'S DEAL TO BRAVES MEETS HIS APPROVAL

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—"Bill" Southworth and Walter Barbare, who figured in the trade which brought "Rabbit" Maranville to the Pirates, are satisfied with their new berths on the Boston National club.

In a letter to Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh team, Southworth said he had been satisfied while wearing a Pirate uniform but that he was willing to go to the Braves.

"I realize you sadly needed a shortstop and to get one, players had to be given in exchange" said the popular outfielder. He thanked Mr. Dreyfuss for the "square treatment" received here and in closing said "I hope your boys will be well up toward the top, with Boston leading."

In a letter to a friend, Barbare said that while he was sorry to leave Pittsburgh, "I feel I'll have a chance in Boston and I feel I'm going to come thru."

Fred Nicholson, one of the heaviest hitters on the National circuit, also went to Boston in the Maranville trade.

CHI FORWARD HOLDS LEAD IN POINTS

CHICAGO. — With the Big Ten basketball season nearly half completed, Robert Birkhoff, the slim little University of Chicago forward, heads the list of sixty-two conference players who have broken into the scoring column in the games played during the month of January. Birkhoff is one of the three men who reached a total of twenty baskets and is tied for second in free throws.

Birkhoff has totaled 76 points, which puts him ahead of Capt. Taylor of Wisconsin and Capt. Karpus of Michigan, who are tied for second place with 71 points.

VOLLMER BEST ON BASKETS

High basket honors go to Vollmer of Chicago, who sank twenty-five ringers in January, despite the fact that he was out of one game and part of another because of illness.

Chicago is floundering far down the percentage list with a mark of 500 but three Maroons are among the eleven men who have scored thirty points, indicating that the Maroons have star scorers without team play.

WHITTALL RUGS AT BLUEM'S.

GIBSON SURE HIS OUTFIT IS BETTER

PITTSBURG, Pa. — (By United Press)—No baseball fan in Smoketown is counting George Gibson's Pirates a sure thing in the 1921 National League race.

Likewise, not a fan is counting them a sure thing out of the pennant dash.

Gibson feels just like the fans.

"I'm confident we will make a good showing," he told the United Press today in speaking of his Pirates, "but I have never seen much success in winning winter pennants."

IS NOT TOO SURE

"Gibby," of course, expects to win the pennant but he smilingly admits that clubs sometimes go against the hopes of their pilots.

"We will start the 1921 race with a much stronger club than we had last year," he said. "Perhaps our outfield will not be as brilliant, but we are well-fortified in the gardens and we still have a dependable array of talent.

"The outfield has not been weakened and the infield has been immeasurably strengthened by the addition of Rabbit Maranville.

SEWS UP WEAK POINT

"We were weak in that position last year and in my opinion now we have one of the very greatest to hold down that important job. We figure we got the best of the deal, so does Boston for that matter, otherwise the trade wouldn't have been made.

"I realize, however, that every batted ball doesn't go to the shortstop and that Maranville can't play the whole game. He will have the help of a good infield and I feel the utmost confidence in the present line-up.

HAS GOOD PITCHERS

"We have some good youngsters to look over this spring and while every manager wants a raft of good pitchers, I am satisfied with what I have. We'll win more games than we lose as we now stand —perhaps that is the only prediction I should make.

"Early in June, I can make a pretty accurate guess about pennant chances. Until then— well, whoever won a pennant in winter?"

NATIONALS ARE ALL READY

CHICAGO — The vanguard of the Chicago Nationals, consisting of pitchers and catchers, will start for the training camp on the Pacific coast February 24, it was announced today.

They will be in charge of Manager Johnny Evers and will arrive at Pasadena February 27. After a week of mountain-climbing on Catalina island, these players will be joined at Pasadena by the remainder of the club at the training camp March 6.

Beginning their regular spring training on March 7, the Cubs will play about twenty-five games on the coast.

LANDIS' OFFICE IS OPENED

CHICAGO — Headquarters for Judge K. M. Landis, as high commissioner of baseball were opened in a suite of rooms in a Michigan avenue building today. He expects to be ready to transact baseball business there soon and to announce selection of his secretary in two or three weeks.

Comment on the plans of the commission in dealing with the indicted White Sox players was refused by Judge Landis, but he did say that the country would be combed for evidence, and that any sum necessary would be spent to get the facts.

FORD AND TROLLEY CAR MIX

VAN WERT — Unable to see the approaching traction car because of the falling snow Edward Vetter of west of town ran his Ford head on into the car near Cherry-st with the result that the Ford was badly damaged while he and his companions, Russell Bastman and Lloyd LaRue escaped with a few minor cuts and bruises.

SKATERS ARE BUNCHED IN BIG MEET

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. — The finish of the first day's races of the national speed championship found three men tied for first place in the point score. Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid, Roy McWhirter of Chicago, Ill., and Charles Gorman of St. Johns, N. B., finished with forty points each.

These three—only one in the meet to score dividing the 220 yard dash and the one mile championship between them. Jewtraw won the 220 yard dash, with Gorman second, and McWhirter third.

McWHIRTER WINS MILE RACE

McWhirter reversed the decision in the mile by finishing first in a brilliant sprint, beating Gorman to the line by about five yards. Jewtraw finished third, almost on the heels of the Canadian crack. In the final of the 220 yard championship McWhirter, the Chicago skater, finished third.

The mile championship was skated in three heats with the first, second, and third in each heat and fourth man in the fastest heat to qaulify for the finals.

Jack Stowell of Minneapolis was third in the first heat. McWhirter finished first in the second heat The third heat was made in the fastest time of the day and proved to be the most exciting.

JULIAN STEINMETZ PACEMAKER

Julian Steinmetz of Chicago and Les Boyd of New York alternated in pacemaking. R. Donovan of Minneapolis was able to keep within striking distance.

In the final of the mile until one and a half laps from the finish McWhiter jumped the field on the pole to win from Gorman by about five yards.

Tomorrow's events in the senior championship will include the half mile heats semi-finals and finals and the heats and finals of the two mile.

FLO ZIEGFELD PRAISES DOROTHY DICKSON

Greatest Dancing Personality in the World"—To Appear in "Paying the Piper"

Way Down East" Enters Upon Its Fourth Day at the Faurot —The Directory

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)

DOROTHY DICKSON, who according to Flo Ziegfeld, is "the greatest dancing personality in the world," makes her debut in motion pictures in "Paying the Piper," George Fitzmaurice's latest production, which will be shown here soon. Tho Miss Dickson had refused many offers in the past, she consented to appear in the role of Barbara Wyndham in the picture.

Miss Dickson has had an interesting career, which was begun five years ago. With her husband, Carl Hyson, she made a success in hotel entertainments. When they appeared at Rector's in Chicago, Ray Comstock saw them there and, upon returning to New York, induced them to join the "Oh Boy" company. Following this, Mr. Hyson and Miss Dickson were with such musical shows as "Rockabye Baby," "Girl o' Mine," and "The Royal Vagabond." Miss Dickson also scored a hit in "Lassie," in which she sang, danced and acted for the first time.

In the role of Barbara Wyndham, who prides herself on the number of cigarettes she can smoke and who believes that everything can be bought with money, she has a role to which her charming mannerisms are readily adapted.

"Way Down East"

At the Faurot where it bids fair to surpass even the records established by his former efforts, David W. Griffith's motion picture version of "Way Down East" enters upon its fourth day. With its thrilling scenes and photographic splendor this photo-drama has recruited additional admirers for the great array of capable players seen in the principal characterizations, among them Lillian Gish, Richard Barthremess, Harry Hay, Burr McIntosh, Lowell Sherman and others. The entire production is under the personal supervision of Mr. Griffith. "Way Down East" is presented twice daily, with matinees at 2:30 and evenings at 8:15.

NOTES

Dore Davidson, who played the father in "Humoresque", is on the stage in New York this month in Clare Kummer's new comedy, "Rollo's Wild Oats".

* * *

Mildred Marsh, a younger sister of Mae Marsh, was married recently in Los Angeles to Ygnacio John Forest, "of one of the oldest Spanish families in California."

* * *

Nazimova, one is informed, has solved her plans to produce "Aphrodite" and will appear next in "Camille".

* * *

Doris Kenyon, who left the movies to appear in the farce, "The Girl in the Limousine", is back in a movie of "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford". It is being directed by Frank Borzage, who directed the movie "Humoresque".

* * *

* * *

Joseph Conrad, according to reports which are somewhat qualified, has contracted to write a scenario for Paramount.

* * *

Mrs. Fiske, on the stage, played the role Pauline Stark will play in the movie of "Salvation Nell".

* * *

"Ziegfeld Follies" contributes yet another beauty to the movies. She is Jacqueline Logan.

* * *

While Vera Gordon is playing vaudeville engagements in New York her newest photoplay, "The Greatest Love", is showing on the screens. In this new Selznick presentation Miss Gordon has a "mother" role after the manner of characterization she gave in "Humoresque".

that pays a life-long interest greater than any bank in existence, is a trifling sum to protect your teeth.

Too many people consider it money spent instead of money placed for a wise purpose. Speculation may be a good thing at times, but it usually ends in a great loss when applied to teeth.

The benefit of my operations is such that my patients reserve a fund for the care of the teeth.

NEW YORK.—Oils again led the general list to lower levels at the sunset of today's stock market session. Royal Dutch was the heaviest feature, soon losing almost 2 points. Steels, equipments and motor specialties made fractional concessions, but rails were dull and unchanged. With the first half hour reversals became more extensive on selling of Crucible, General Asphalt, Mexican Petroleum and Sears-Roebuck. Exchange on London forfeited part of yesterday's late rally.

Every branch of the industrial division was included in the additional losses registered during the morning. The opening rate of 8 per cent for call money accelerated the further reaction. Oils and sugars especially reflected more unfavorable trade conditions and the same reasons were applicable to the increased heaviness of Hide and Leather preferred and Sears-Roebuck.

Motors, coppers, tobaccos and various specialties declined 1 to 2 points and shippings finally yielded. Rails were the only group to display relative steadiness, Northern Pacific gaining 1 1-2 points. Exchange on London made additional recovery from yesterday's reversal.

OIL PRICE CUT HITS FIELD OPERATIONS

MANNINGTON, W. Va. — The recent cut in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil to $5 a barrel is beginning to be felt in the important fields in Northern West Virginia. Many new projects which were to have been set going with the opening of spring have been temporarily abandoned, while field work already under way will be confined to wells which must be completed in order to hold leases or which would result in heavy loss should operations be suspended.

Pumpers, who have for some time been looking after a given number of wells, have been laid off and the wells divided among other crews.

ROBBER WOUNDED BY CINCINNATI WOMAN

CINCINNATI — A man with a bullet wound in the neck was sought by police today for attempting to rob the home of Mrs. Pearl Moran last night. The theief bound and gagged the woman and then started a search for valuables.

Mrs. Moran managed to get one hand free. Drawing a revolver from an apron pocket, she fired at the bandit. The bullet struck him in the neck. He staggered and blood spattered from the wound. As he ran from the room, Mrs. Moran fired another shot and missed.

CHICAGO — Wheat advanced in price today largely as a result of belief that bearish conditions had been discounted, at least for the time being. Bulls contended also that the main factor was not undermelling from Argentina but the question whether the United States exportable surplus had already been disposed of. Upturns in prices, however, brought about increased selling. Initial quotations, which ranged from 1 to 3 3-4c higher with March 1.57 to 1.58 and May 1.45 to 1.46 3-4, were followed by a moderate reaction.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening 1-8 to 1c higher; including May at 64 3-4 to 65 1-8, the market kept for a time within this range and then relaxed a trifle.

Oats were firm to the strength of other cereals, starting 1-8 to 1-2c higher, May 41 1-4 to 41 3-8 and later gaining a little more.

Provisions lacked any aggressive support and displayed a tendency to sag.

Wheat prices closed unsettled, 1 1-2 to 3 1-4c net higher with March $1.56 3-4 to 1.57 and May $1.46 1-2 to 1.46 3-4.

Corn prices closed nervous 5-8 to 7-8c net higher, with May 65 1-8 to 65 1-4.

PUZZLED OVER DEATH.

CINCINNATI.—The police and coroner are at variance as to the cause of the death of Mrs. Catherine Booth who was found dying at her home in this city yesterday evening. A bullet had passed thru the woman's head, her nose was broken and there were discolorations under her eyes as if inflicted by blows.

ORDERS IS ORDERS, But

You have heard of concerns with plenty of orders. Orders are all right, but production, getting the orders out at a profit is what counts. The Lima Sheet Metal Products Company shipped SEVEN THOUSAND FORD BATTERY BOXES during the month of January, and the figures show that every box was produced at a profit. This in addition to their other business.

This is the kind of a concern for you to invest your money in, well managed, and honestly conducted. Come in or phone us in regard to these shares.

PROPOSED TAX ON OIL PROTESTED

Mexican Producers Object to Plan of Government

MEXICO CITY — (By Associated Press) — Formal objections to the government's projected law providing for the payment of oil taxes was presented to Adolfo de la Huerta, secretary of the treasury yesterday afternoon by a committee representing the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico. Assertion was made by members of the committee that it was the most energetic protest as yet made to the government by the association.

The memorandum contained charges of "subterfuge in the designation of the act" and a declaration that "companies which export petroleum are subject to manouvres which can be arbitrary on the part of officials or the employes of the secretary of finance." It is alleged the projected legislation would levy upon petroleum taxes which were exorbitant and wholly out of proportion to the value of the product. Declaring by the government that the proposed law would provide for a production tax was denied by the protest, which asserted the only portion of oil production affected by the tax would be that which includes crude petroleum and its products exported from Mexico.

SUGAR PRICES CUT

Cuba Overstocked, Surplus in America, Reports Say

NEW YORK — (By United Press) —Seven-cent sugar for the table is a possibility, wholesale dealers here declared today.

The approach to pre-war prices followed wholesale reductions announced by the Federal company, the American Sugar Refining, Pennsylvania Sugar Refining, Revere and National Companies.

The prices ranged from $6.85 set by the Federal, to $7.25 announced by the Pennsylvania company.

The causes for the reductions sugar men said, were the same that brought prices down in other lines—liquidation to meet indebtedness, competition, surplus and lack of buying power.

Cuba Cane ran up to 26.28 cents per pound when Cuba's speculators were at the height of their activities. Yesterday it was quoted at .0480, tariff paid for the raw sugar.

Cuba, wholesalers say, is overstocked and America has a great surplus of domestic sugars, cane and beet.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK — The raw sugar market was easier and prices were 1 1-16 lower to the basis of 3 1-16 cents for Cubas and freight, equal to 4.82 for Centrifugal.

Refined was weak and prices were from 50 to 65 points lower to the basis of 6.85 to 7.00 for fine granulated, the lowest price recorded in over two years.

The weakness in raw and refined led to scattered liquidation in futures and prices at midday were ten to 18 points net lower.

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Please ma'am, father's sent me round to say that your [illegible] Tower's killed three of his p[illegible] Cochin-Chinas this afternoon," announced an apple-faced youth to the elderly maiden lady.

The lady held up her hands in horror. "Towzer," she said, "could not do such a thing. Go and tell your father that he must have made a mistake."

"But father saw him with one of the chickens in his mouth, ma'am."

"Tell your father circumstantial evidence has led many a wiser man astray," sniffed the lady. "Run away and do as I tell you now."

When the boy returned three minutes later, he struggled with an ear-to-ear smile.

"Father's compliments, ma'am, and p'r'haps you're right," he said. "He says I'm to tell you that circumstantial evidence would point to the fact that he shot your dog half an hour ago, but on goin' into the matter he reckons as how you'd find the poor thing died of nervous prostration."

"Why so?"

"It's high time something were done to force the motion picture theatres to stop exhibiting pictures dealing with violence and crime."

"Don't worry. They'll have to stop it soon. Crime and violence are getting to be such every day occurrences in real life that it won't be long before the public will demand something different on the screen."
